MARYVILLE COLLEGE BULLETIN

Published by Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee

Ralph Waldo, Lloyd, President

VOL. XLIX April, 1951 No. 7

Published bi-monthly by Maryville College. Entered May 24, 1904, at Maryville, Tennessee, as second-class mail matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized February 10, 1919.

Dear Fellow Alumni of Maryville College:

Another year has rolled by in alumni history. Notable since the last Bulletin has been the excellent and proud use of the new Fine Arts building on the campus which many of you have not had the pleasure of seeing. Dedication of this building will take place during Commencement Week.

A local event was a reception honoring the twentieth anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Lloyds' outstanding leadership at our College, given by students and faculty.

Also, at a banquet for him several honors were accorded Coach Honaker for a record thirty years of athletic leadership. He was presented a new Buick automobile and a sizable sum of money (and a vacation trip was suggested) as a reward for the excellent type of sportsmanship which he has so consistently fostered. Former athletes came from near and far to congratulate and honor him.

Although it is not yet under construction a new Chapel has been assured for Maryville College. It is my understanding that as soon as architects' plans are approved and materials are made available, work will begin on this new and much needed edifice in memory of Dr. Samuel T. Wilson.

Commencement Week this year begins May 10th Alumni Day will be May 12th and the dedication of the Fine Arts Center on May 13th. We hope you will plan your vacation now to include this opportunity to come back to see what your Alma Mater is now doing toward the continuation of education. Also it is an excellent opportunity for class groups to get together for their reunions, to renew old acquaintances and think and talk again of the wonderful times we have had together in years gone by.

Paying your alumni dues will help us to keep up with students, including yourself. We feel this Bulletin coming to you each year should bring you satisfaction in news of your Alma Mater and of your contemporaries, and that you really want to continue to keep it coming. Now is the best time to write and mail that check for $2.00 to Maryville College Alumni Association along with any pertinent news as to your attainments.

May I urge you again to make your plans to attend Commencement this year.

Sincerely,

H. O. Crowder

TO ALL ALUMNI OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE:

ALL ALUMNI. The number of our living graduates is 3527 according to records in the Alumni Office. All would receive this bulletin if we knew everyone's address. Actually there are about 300 graduates from whose recorded addresses mail has been returned unclaimed; and at each mailing of this bulletin to addresses we think to be correct about one hundred notices come from the Post Office saying the addressee is no longer there. Therefore, if any one who receives this knows of some other graduate or former student who does not receive it, please send the correct address to the Alumni Office, and be sure to send word whenever you move or change your name. For I would like to send the greeting which this page contains to ALL alumni, and have ALL receive the college news which is in all these pages.

ENROLMENTS. The question most frequently asked us and most frequently discussed in writings about colleges these days is, "How many students are you going to have?" It is a question which I wish some one could answer. All college administrators and commentators make predictions, more or less confidently, but no one really knows yet what enrollments will be next Fall. All think there will be a decrease; many think now that the decrease will be smaller than was predicted three months ago. At this writing Congress has not yet completed legislation concerning military service, which will be the principal factor affecting college enrollments. There appears to be a growing disposition on the part of Congress and Selective Service to extend the provisions for remaining in college. My personal expectations are less optimistic than those of most of my college president friends. I shall be surprised and of course pleased if next Fall finds in liberal arts colleges more than two thirds as many men as are there now. Present conditions, with high paying jobs, increased numbers of marriages, and general disturbances of family plans, tend to reduce also the number of girls going to college.

COLLEGE FINANCES. The prophets of despair who write in secular journals about small colleges base their predictions of crippling and closing on (a) unlimited tax monies for the state institutions, (b) reduced student fees, and (c) inflation. They are correct about the causes; I hope and believe they are mistaken about the ultimate results. But the results will depend in no small measure on the conviction of Americans about the essentiality of the church and private college and a new sense of obligation on the part of alumni and others. Maryville is increasing overall charges about 15 percent for the Fall Semester, but students cannot and should not carry all the burden. The net total of tuition, room, board, and books at Maryville College is still less than at other colleges of similar rank, but I wish we could escape these periodic increases in charges. During my twenty years at Maryville, our budget has doubled because of growth, improvements in program and plant, higher salaries, and higher prices. We have added approximately three quarters of a million dollars to our endowment and yet it has been necessary to increase charges in about the ratio of budget increase. (Even at that students still get three meals a day—good meals—for one dollar!) We have come through Depression and War and "Post-War" without debt. We shall make every effort to continue so—but the next few years will be rough. Alumni can help by joining our Living Endowment Plan. (If you will, write for information.)

THE NEW BUILDINGS. On another page are announcements about dedication of the Fine Arts Center on May 13, preceded by the Fine Arts Festival and Awards. The Chapel Fund was wonderfully advanced in January by a gift of $100,000 by an anonymous donor and is near the goal of $400,000 only to find building costs going on ahead like a will-o-the-wisp. But with the additional gifts of alumni and other generous friends, we will one day have announcements of the beginning of a notable building.

You are always welcome on the campus.

Most cordially yours,

Ralph Waldo Lloyd

DEDICATION OF THE FINE ARTS CENTER

Although the Fine Arts Center has been in use since last September, it has taken all the college year to complete the details and secure the furnishings. Even now the Music Hall seats have not arrived. It was decided to set the dedication in the Commencement season and to inaugurate with it an annual Fine Arts Festival and Scholarship Award Competition.

The formal dedication will take place on Baccalaureate afternoon, May 13. But it will be preceded by three days of emphasis upon Art, Drama, and Music. A number of distinguished speakers are to be present. On Alumni Day, Saturday, May 12, there will be competitions in Art and Music with scholarship awards to the successful contestants. (See description under separate heading.) The donors of the building, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Alfred Lloyd, will participate in the formal dedication ceremony.

It is planned to conduct a fine Arts Festival and the Competitions each spring, perhaps a few weeks earlier than Commencement.

The 1951 Festival will include chapel addresses by notable guest speakers on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday mornings, May 10, 11, and 12; Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" on the nights of May 11 and 15; the competitions all day on the 12th; addresses on architecture and art at and after the Alumni Dinner; and the Dedication itself. The special emphasis of the period will be in mind in planning the Baccalaureate and the Commencement Vesper services.

As this is written, the following have accepted invitations to take part in this program: Price Doyle, President of the National Association of Schools of Music; John Walker, Chief Curator of the National Art Gallery, Washington; E. William Doty, Dean of the College of Fine Arts of the University of Texas; Rev. Dr. Paul Calvin Payne, General Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, and Malcolm Miller, Knoxville, drama and music critic and impresario.

FINE ARTS FACULTY

For many years Maryville College has offered work in the fine arts. However, until 1936 it was outside the regular degree offerings and college credit was not given. Since that time, majors leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts have been offered in music, drama, and art and the Division has grown rapidly. The faculty of this year are listed below.

Katharine C. Davies, Piano and Music Literature, Chairman of the Division. Bernice Cathcart Blair, Voice; Kathleen Craven, Drama and Speech, E. Katherine Crews, Violin and School Music; Malcolm J. Dashiell, Art; Alice Archibald Eaddy, Piano and History of Music; Harry H. Harter, Voice and Choir; Dorothy D. Horne, Music Theory; Mildred W. Hughes, Drama and Speech; W. Curtis Hughes, Organ and Voice; Charlotte B. Johnson, Art; Thelma Nelson, Piano and Theory; Dorothy H. Vawter, Piano.

THE 1951 COMMENCEMENT

The graduating class of 1951 will number approximately 172. This is the second largest class; the Class of 1950 numbered 177. It is made up of students completing their work at three dates—the end of the Fall Semester (December 1950), the end of the Spring Semester (May 1951), and the end of the summer of 1951. An unusual number, 25, completed their work in December, 1950. Only in December, 1942 have there been more —36.

Commencement Day is Wednesday, May 16. The Directors of the College will hold their Spring Meeting at 8:30 a.m. that morning, and the graduating exercises will be at 10:30 a.m.

Baccalaureate Sunday is May 13. The Baccalaureate service will be at 10:30 a.m., the Dedication of the Fine Arts Center at 3:00 p.m., the Music Hour at 4:30 p.m., and Commencement Vespers at 7:00 p.m.

Alumni Day will be Saturday, May 12. The Alumni Dinner will be at 7:00 p.m., and will be followed at 9:30 p.m. by an illustrated lecture in the Fine Arts Center. Reunion classes will get together as they may plan during the day, while students take exams and music contestants compete for the scholarship awards offered. The twenty-five year class (1926) has been working for some time on its reunion plans.

The annual reception by President and Mrs. Lloyd will be held at Morningside, in the College Woods, their present home, on Tuesday afternoon, May 15, from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The Commencement play will be given twice, once on Friday evening, May 11, as part of the Fine Arts Festival, and again on Tuesday night, May 15. This year it is Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing."

As described elsewhere, the events of the Fine Arts Festival will be on May 10, 11, 12, and 13. There will be chapel programs also on Monday and Tuesday, May 14 and 15.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN WALKER

Mrs. John Walker, the beloved builder and occupant since 1932 of Morningside, in the College Woods, died on December 14, 1950, and was buried in the College Cemetery beside her sister Mrs. William Patton Stevenson.

At the time of her death Mrs. Walker had attained the remarkable age of 98 years, 8 months, and 5 days. She had been quite well until five weeks before her death when she fell in the house and broke her hip.

The story of Mrs. Walker's residence on the campus and relationship to the College is an interesting one. She was a sister of Mrs. William Patton Stevenson, wife of our former College Pastor who served from 1917 to 1940. In 1932, Mrs. Walker's husband, a former associate of Andrew Carnegie and other builders of the steel business, died in Pittsburgh at the age of 87. Mrs. Walker, who was then 80, was given permission to build a home in our College Woods. She said that she wished to live out her "few remaining years" near her sister, who was fifteen years younger. It was her intention to spend only part of each year here, as she had homes also in Pittsburgh and Canada. However, although Mrs. Stevenson died in 1939, she liked the year-round climate and the situation here so much that she soon kept this as her only home.

Mrs. Walker built three houses on the campus—the large residence in which she lived, a three-car garage with a small four-room apartment over it, and a charming five-room brick "Guest House" a hundred yards away. These, of course, were properties of the College from the beginning since they were on the College's grounds; and this fact was emphasized in Declarations of Trust which gave Mrs. Walker full possession and responsibility of them during her lifetime. Her will transfers to the College the furnishings.

Her living at the College turned out to be a happy arrangement for her and a benediction to the College in ways much beyond her monetary gifts even though they were considerable and continuous. It will be of interest to know that the first gift for rebuilding the Chapel was $1,000 from her. And the last check she signed, the day before her fall, was one for $1,000 to the Chapel Fund (with others between these two). She was especially interested in landscaping. It was she who supervised the grading of the old red bank and the building of the steps below Carnegie. She made the corduroy into a road rather than a path and erected the gateway on that side of the campus. Her secretary and business manager was Miss Nellie P. McCampbell, '09, a member of the College's Board of Directors, who rejoiced in and encouraged Mrs. Walker's interests in the College and its program.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

In the course of a year there are many events and many activities on the campus. Among the traditional events are the singing of "The Messiah" on a Sunday afternoon before Christmas (this year 225 sang in the chorus), the Good Friday service at chapel, the Easter Sunrise Service (this year it was cold but clear and almost five hundred people attended), and of course the February Meetings. Another tradition is Barnwarming on Thanksgiving evening. The theme for 1950 was "Golden Jubilee" and depicted episodes in the life of one family over the half century. The king and queen were Andy Clark and Judy Breen. The May Day pageant will be based on early English May Festivals. Election of the queen will take place shortly. "Our Town" and "Mr. Pim Passes By" have been given by the Playhouse and recently the Experimental Theatre gave two one-act plays on a stage in the center of the Bartlett gym floor as an experiment in "theatre-in-the-round." The Artists Series has presented the University of Alabama String Quartet, the North Texas State College A Cappella Choir, and Wiktor Labunski, noted Polish pianist. Dr. Labunski spent two days on the campus, lecturing to music classes, conducting a piano clinic, and giving a formal concert as one of the Artists Series numbers. Alumni will be interested in the fact that the Director of the North Texas State Choir was the son of Frank D. McKinley, Prep. '95-'98, who came down from his home in Winchester, Kentucky for the concert.

Morningside, March 1951

THE PRESIDENT'S HOUSE

On March 1 President and Mrs. Lloyd moved to Morningside, in the College Woods, the former home of Mrs. John Walker. It was Mrs. Walker's wish that Morningside become the presidential residence.

The house in which the Lloyds have lived for twenty years was also the home of two former presidents: Dr. Boardman for ten years and Dr. Wilson for twenty-nine years. It was built in 1890 by Mrs. Sylvester Willard of Auburn, New York, as a memorial to her husband. The present plans are to use it for additional women's residence facilities.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS FOR HONOR STUDENTS IN BLOUNT COUNTY HIGH SCHOOLS

As an expression of interest in the high school students of this area and as an incentive toward scholarly achievement, the College has announced that tuition scholarship awards will be given to the first-honor graduate in each high school of Blount County and in Greenback High School of Loudon County. The high schools are: Alcoa, Everett, Friendsville, Lanier, Maryville, Porter, Townsend, Walland, and Greenback. In case the highest ranking student in any school does not accept the scholarship, it will not be awarded in that school.

Each scholarship will be for one half of the tuition each year for four years, under the conditions stated below. On the basis of present tuition charges the scholarship would amount to $120 per year or a total of $480 over the four years of college. It will apply only to attendance at Maryville College and will not be transferable to another person. To qualify the student must meet these requirements: hold the highest scholarship average in the graduating class over all work taken throughout the entire four-year high school course; be recommended by the high school faculty as a person possessing such qualifications of character, personality, aptitude, and purpose as would give promise of success in college; meet all college entrance requirements as published in the Maryville College catalog including the completion of prescribed high school subjects and the furnishing of necessary references and certificates. To continue to qualify for this award after the freshman year, the student must maintain each semester a satisfactory record of scholarship, attitude and general progress.

Here And There

Lloyd E. Foster, Executive Secretary of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, retired on December 31, after twenty years of service. He and Mrs. Foster (Minnie McGinley, ex '08) were honored at a testimonial dinner and two bound volumes of letters from friends and admirers were presented to Mr. Foster. He has won wide recognition as a leader in his field and has served as president of the Alabama Chamber of Commerce Executives, president of the Southern Commerce Executives Association, and president of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives.

Rev. Theron Alexander, who retired last year, still preaches nearly every Sunday, does hospital service, and deep sea fishing in Florida. He and his wife live near their son, Theron Jr., '35, in Tallahassee.

Prep. 1910-1911

Ned N. Skolnick recently returned for a brief visit, particularly to express his gratitude to Dr. Will T. Bartlett, '01, who lives in Maryville. At the age of seven, Mr. Skolnick earned what he could carrying bags at a New York railroad station. It was in this way that he met Dr. Bartlett, then a young minister. "He took me out and bought me shoes and clothes," said Mr. Skolnick, "and then took me home with him and later sent me to Maryville College, where I spent a year and a half in the prep department." He spent some of his time in Maryville with Dr. Bartlett's mother and was also befriended by the late Miss Margaret Henry. Mr. Skolnick now lives in Indianapolis, where he is executive vice president and secretary of the United Home Life Insurance Company, which he helped found.

Rev. Robert C. Cross has resigned as pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, Alabama, to go to Munford, Tennessee, where he has accepted a call to the Munford Church and the Millington Church at Lucy, Tennessee.

An interesting letter from Ruth C. Newell says, "For the past year I have been Matron in one of the girls' dormitories at State Teachers College, Framingham, Massachusetts. I have 110 girls in my large hall, freshmen and sophomores. This work is most interesting and constantly challenging. I recommend it for keeping one younger in spirit."

1920

Mrs. Jasper Morgan Cox (Dexter Clayton) has been appointed counselor for literature and audio-visual materials at the Chicago branch of the Presbyterian Distribution Service of the Board of Christian Education.

Mrs. Mary Kate Duskin (Mary Kate Lewis) was named Atlanta's Woman of the Year in Professions for 1950. She has been executive director of the Atlanta YWCA since 1937. Under her leadership it has grown tremendously in membership, in staff, in budget, and last year erected a new building for the Negro branch and contracted for a new building for the Central branch.

The Alumni Office is in receipt of a reprint from the Journal of Biological Chemistry, entitled "Polypeptin, An Antibiotic From a Member of the Baccillus Circulans Group," by Stacey F. Howell. Mr. Howell, who has been chief biochemist at the Venereal Disease Research Laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service, Staten Island, N. Y., has recently joined the staff of the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, Kirksville, Missouri, as Professor of Biochemistry.

1921

G. Hurst Paul, ex '21, has been appointed associate editor of the News Leader, afternoon daily newspaper in Richmond, Virginia. Mr. Paul's father was a Methodist pastor of the Maryville circuit.

1923

James Arthur Milling now lives in Albuquerque. He is with the Veterans Administration at the University of New Mexico.

1924

Dr. Sam H. Franklin, Jr., and Mrs. Franklin (Dorothy Winters, '25) returned from Japan at Christmas time to take special work at Union Theological Seminary, New York, this semester.

1925

Stuart McC. Rohre was assigned as a chaplain at the Brooke Army Hospital, San Antonio, in December, 1950. He is Senior Chaplain at the Brooke Army Medical Center in addition to his other duties. He states that he has had the opportunity to minister to a number of Korean casualties.

1928

"General Psychology for College Students" by Wendell W. Cruze, Professor of Psychology at Wilson Teachers College, in Washington, was published in January. This is Dr. Cruze's second textbook. The first, "Educational Psychology," published in 1942, has been used as a text at a large number of colleges and universities. He is working on a third manuscript and anticipates publication in early 1952.

1929

SMALL COLLEGE SURVEY

Several inquiries have come as to why Maryville College was not included in "Good Housekeeping's" annual survey of small colleges. Maryville was included in the two previous surveys but this year the magazine changed the survey into what appears to be almost an accrediting process and asked each college to submit extensive reports and fill out a voluminous questionnaire. There is a general belief among college leaders that too many individual and departmentalized accrediting agencies are harmful and Maryville decided not to send in a report.

A bulletin, containing the following general information and detailed instructions, has been mailed to high schools and teachers throughout this general area. The awards are, in piano, $200; in voice, $200; in art, $100. If the winner elects to attend Maryville College, the College will add a $100 award, making the totals—piano, $300; voice, $300; art, $200. These awards will be made at the close of the competitions on May 12, 1951, to three individual competitors, one in piano, one in voice, and one in art. These will be determined by eminent authorities invited to be judges, whose decision shall be final. The judges will have power to decide that there is no winner in a particular competition of sufficient merit to receive the award. Each award on May 12 will be in the form of a certificate for the amount indicated, to be applied toward expenses at a college or school of music or art approved by Maryville College. A candidate for competition must be a high school senior or graduate who has not attended college or professional school and is planning to do so. In music he must perform in competition at the College on May 12; in art he must submit a portfolio containing six examples of his work. In both cases he must submit his high school record and have the endorsement of his principal and teacher.

Have you paid your dues, $2.00, for this year? The fiscal year closes May 31 but your money is good any time.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming Day last fall started off as a beautiful October day but just as the barbecue was ending that evening it began to rain and it continued throughout the football game. The queen Mary Wills, senior from Baltimore, was crowned before the game, but by the half it was raining so hard the pageant planned could not be held and the band could not play. The pageant, on the United Nations and featuring the flags of all the member nations, was held at the next game and was very effective. Students decorated the dormitories in honor of the returning alumni and the Pep Committee sponsored a parade in the afternoon which included twenty floats made by different campus organizations.

The annual Founders Day Address at the Founders Day service that morning was given by President John A. Mackay of Princeton Theological Seminary, noted church leader, who spoke on "God's Springtime in Asia."

Founders Day and Homecoming next fall will be on October 27. The game will be with Carson-Newman, and we will hope for better weather. Plan now to come.

SOCIAL SECURITY EXTENDED TO COLLEGES

Church-related and private college employees are among the groups to which Federal Social Security coverage was extended as of January 1, 1951. Maryville College added it to the Retirement Annuity Plan which it has had in effect for twelve years. Prior to 1951 educational institutions were not eligible for participation.

FACULTY NEWS

At the annual meeting of the Western Section of the World Presbyterian Alliance in February, President Lloyd was elected Secretary of the Western Section and Acting American Secretary of the World Presbyterian Alliance. Sometime ago he was elected a member of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches. Duties in connection with these two appointments will probably take him to Europe about the middle of the summer. The Central Committee of the World Council is to meet August 4-11 in Rolle, Switzerland, and the Executive Committee of the World Presbyterian Alliance August 13-15 in Basle, Switzerland. He will probably meet certain other appointments in Great Britain but will return before the end of August. Among articles President Lloyd has written in recent months were one on "Pastors and Presbyterian Union" in Monday Morning, an article "Can the Presbyterians Get Together Again" in Presbyterian Life, "Ours is a Cooperative and Uniting Church" in the Southern California Presbyterian, and "Our Colleges" in the March 31 issue of Presbyterian Life. On the anniversary of the Lloyds' coming to Maryville College in 1930, the faculty gave twenty roses to Mrs. Lloyd and sent a telegram to President Lloyd, who was then attending the Southern Association of Colleges in Richmond. On January 30 faculty and students gave a reception in the Lloyds' honor.

Coach Lombe S. Honaker was honored on March 10 by 150 of his former athletes, in recognition of his thirty years of service at Maryville College. They gave a banquet in his honor at Chilhowee Inn (Walland), and presented to him a new Buick car and a purse for $1,000. Wide newspaper publicity was given to the event and to the fact that Coach Honaker is one of the few coaches in the country who has been able to stay so long at one college.

Dr. Griffitts has been appointed Chairman of the Division of Science, succeeding Professor Susan Green Black, who retired last May. He is now vice chairman of the Steering Committee for regional meetings of the Southeastern Section of the American Chemical Society.

Mr. Black, Director of Maintenance, has been ill but after three weeks in Florida is back on the job again. Mrs. Black is still confined to her home by illness.

Mr. Engelhardt, Assistant Professor of Bible and Religious Education, has been elected Stated Clerk of the Presbytery of Union.

POPULATION STUDY

Maryville is participating again this year in the survey made by the Population Reference Bureau to determine how many college graduates marry and how many children they have. Cards are sent to the graduates of the ten-year and the twenty-five-year classes. The answers received are reported to the bureau, which tabulates and analyzes them. The results of last year's study show that in Maryville's Class of 1925 the women had 1.13 children per graduate (national average 1.29), and the men had 2.15 per graduate (national average 1.77). Of the women, 78% are married (national average 74%) and 75% of the marriages are fertile (national average 77%). Of the men, 95% are married (national average 94%) and 89% of the marriages are fertile (national average 83%).

The statistics of the Class of 1940 are, for the women: children per graduate 1.14 (national average 1.09); 80% married (national average 74%); 81% marriages fertile (national average 80%). For the men: children per graduate 1.58 (national average 1.29); 97% married (national average 88%); 88% marriages fertile (national average 79%).

The Population Reference Bureau has calculated that 2.1 children per graduate are needed to replace the parents and a minimum of 3 children in each family to compensate for the unmarried and the infertile. These studies of more than 150,000 college graduates show that their families are too small to replace them.

Our sociology department and the Alumni Association feel that this Bureau is doing a worthwhile piece of research and appreciate the cooperation of the graduates who have returned the cards sent them.
